Come as a day camper or join hundreds of other young people from around the UK at our flagship residential camps where you have your own en-suite room and spend evenings playing laser tag, disassembling electronics and much more.

Want to Know More?

Tech Camp is the UK's original camp of its kind and remains the only one specialising in teaching coding through advanced take-home projects. It's perfect for creative youngsters who like making things (or taking them apart!) or show those who are forever playing games how to start designing their own.

We have tutors from the likes of Cambridge & Imperial, maximum groups of eight, and exclusive courses not available anywhere else.
